DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 10, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Penfold et al. (U.S. Pat. 4,031,424).

Regarding claim 1, Penfold teach an in-situ plasma cleaning device for performing atomic surface cleaning comprising a cleaning assembly in Fig. 5 for wire cleaning. (Column 21 lines 18-20) A magnetic field generator 342 is located within the cleaning assembly. (Column 22 lines 6-8) The magnetic field generator 342 generates a magnetic field to provide for a plasma for cleaning a surface within the cleaning assembly. (Column 21 lines 27-28; Fig. 5) The cleaning assembly comprises a collector shield disposed opposite to the surface to be cleaned for collecting the contaminants and by-product material. (Column 21 lines 27-35) The cleaning assembly is contained in an outer iron jacket or the like to confine and concentrate the magnetic fields. (Column 17 lines 50-52) The cylinder 352 of the assembly is made of a magnetic material. (Column 22 lines 40-45)

Regarding claim 10, the in-situ plasma cleaning device is performed in a closed volume process to eliminate a possibility of recontamination. (See Fig. 5; iron jacket discussed above)

Art Unit: 1753

Regarding claim 11, the plasma is tuned to attain a predetermined properties.

(Column 16 lines 45-56)

Regarding claim 12, the plasma is tuned by adjusting the strength of the magnetic field. (Column 16 lines 45-56)

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-9 and 13-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

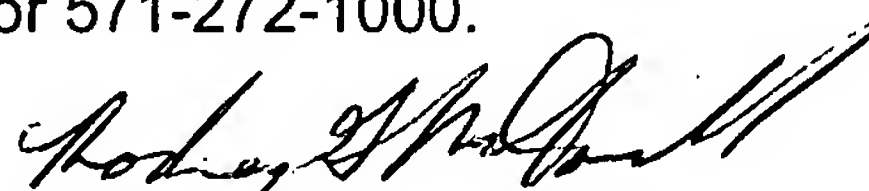

Claims 2-9 and 13-17 are indicated as being allowable over the prior art of record because the prior art of record does not teach the claimed cleaning assembly having a magnetic generator, located within the cleaning assembly, that generates a generally axially directed magnetic field to provide a plasma for cleaning a surface within the cleaning assembly; wherein the cleaning assembly comprises a collector shield disposed opposite to the surface to be cleaned for collecting the contaminants and by-product material and wherein the cleaning assembly traverses the length of a target cylindrical surface and a substrate cylindrical surface during a cleaning process.
